RE: CBOE Stock Exchange (CBSX) Opening Day

We are pleased to announce that CBOE will launch trading on the CBOE Stock Exchange (CBSX) on Monday, March 5, 2007. In honor of this historical event, Congressman Rahm Emanuel (D-IL), Chairman of the House Democratic Caucus will ring the opening bell to signal the beginning of trading at CBSX. Congressman Emanuel, now in his third term in Congress, also serves on the House Ways and Means Committee.

Also, as part of an Exchange-wide celebration to commemorate this momentous occasion, CBOE will provide a continental breakfast for members on opening day. Members may visit the 4th floor Members' Lounge for pastries and coffee beginning at 7:30 a.m.

We look forward to the successful launch of CBSX, and to a long and prosperous future for our new stock exchange, and hope you will join us in celebrating this event.
